I initially recieved my XM subscription as a promotion that GM was advertising with selected models of newly purchased vehicles. Once the free trial period was over I was more than happy to continue the service for the $9.95 a month. I am disgusted by the fact that just because something new has become successful it needs to be brought down a notch by its outdated prediceessors. Satellite Radio is not a threat to anyone nor does it need to be punished by Congress or the FCC because it supplies its subscribers with valuable information. The weather and traffic are not exclusively a local FM stations domain, news reports whether by a reporter on scene or in a helicopter or at a desk are protected by the 1st amendment regarding free speech. Any attempt by Congress to limit or prohibit Satellite radio's right to give its listeners up to date and valuable information is an attempt to take white out to the Bill of Rights!
